

EQUIP YOUR STAFF IN ORAL AND DENTAL HEALTH.

New standards require better care.
Stay ahead with accredited training.

Effective oral care will be easier when your staff have the right education and training.

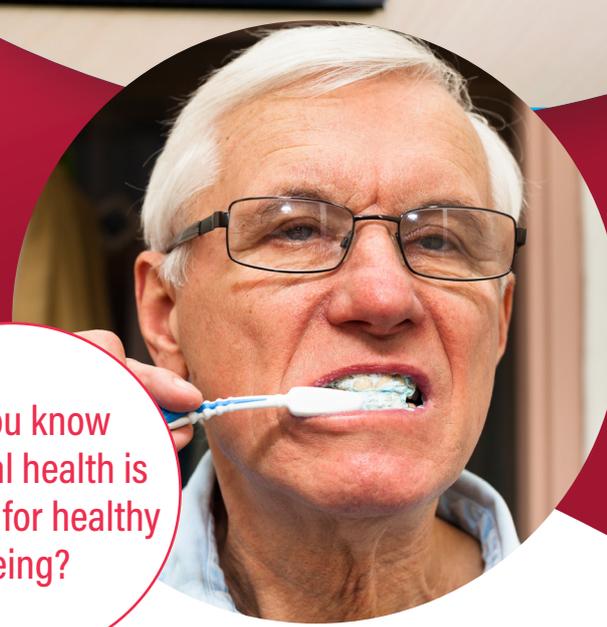

The Royal Commission into Aged Care Quality & Safety has already identified the importance of good oral health and the significant impact of dental health on overall health and wellbeing of older Australians.

Oral conditions and oral diseases such as missing teeth, tooth decay, gum disease and poorly fitting or non-maintained dentures can have a significant impact on general medical conditions as well as the quality of an older person's day-to-day life. Heart disease, Respiratory Diseases, Diabetes and cognitive disorders are some of the conditions affected by poor oral health.

Caring for dentures and natural teeth is sometimes a challenge for carers of older people and people with a disability.

Now is your chance to demonstrate your compliance within the new aged care framework—by ensuring your carers have appropriate training.

LASA Aged Care Training Institute in partnership with Moviliti Training is proud to offer skills-based accredited training in oral and dental care for carers within the age services and disability industries.

Did you know good oral health is essential for healthy ageing?

The 'HLTOHC004 Provide or assist in oral hygiene' is a Certificate III in Individual Support optional elective unit. It will equip your team to:

- Identify clients' oral hygiene requirements to ensure good oral health
- Assist and support clients in their identified oral hygiene needs
- Recognise and report changes in clients' oral health
- Ultimately, support older Australians to maintain quality of life and good oral health
- Help you meet your accreditation requirements within the new Aged Care Quality Standards, particularly 'Standard 1 Consumer dignity and choice', 'Standard 2 Ongoing assessment and planning with consumers', 'Standard 3 Personal care and clinical care' and 'Standard 4 Services and supports for daily living'.
