

Understanding Accommodation Costs from RAD's to DAP's

LASA's Online Professional Development Program has been designed to meet the shifting needs of the age services industry and we are continually adding new education and programs to our schedule. The online delivery model presents a simulated classroom experience through the use of live video functionality. A virtual meeting room enables you to interact in real time with the facilitator and other participants providing valuable peer to peer learning and a fully supported experience. We have broken our courses down into short sessions to enable minimal interruption to your working day and make attendance easily accessible from any location in Australia. All participants are issued a certificate of attendance with CPD points upon completion. So, jump online and register now to expand your knowledge!

This dynamic online workshop will provide a detailed overview of the Aged Care Financial Process.

Arrangements regarding Refundable Accommodation Deposits (RADs), Daily Accommodation Payments (DAPs), Refundable Accommodation Contributions (RACs) & Daily Accommodation Contributions (DACs) can seem complex and confusing.

Join us as our skilled facilitator demystifies the key aspects of accommodation deposits, payments and contributions and equips participants with the essential knowledge for admissions staff to manage this process.

This complex subject is presented in a down to earth practical language that all participants will understand. The session is interactive, providing participants with ample opportunities for questions and answers.

Participants will leave the course equipped with advanced knowledge and skills, which they can immediately apply in the workplace.

Who should attend?

If you are responsible for admissions and for determining payments, this workshop is designed for you.

About the Facilitator: Brad Monk, Senior Financial Advisor, Lifepath Financial Planning.

Brad's career in financial services spans 20 years and started with Colonial Mutual where he worked in a variety of roles including loans management and financial planning. Brad holds a Diploma of Financial Planning and is a certified financial planner. The experience he has gathered across his career has assisted in the establishment of the LifePath brand with Trent Allen and Gerard Lillis, who he has worked with for more than 10 years. Brad understands the complexity that financial matters can cause and enjoys walking the life path with his clients and advising them as their situations evolve.

Outcomes of this course:

- Understand the arrangements regarding accommodation payments
- Refundable Accommodation Deposits (RADs)
- Daily Accommodation Payments (DAPs)
- Refundable Accommodation Contributions (RACs)
- Daily Accommodation Contributions (DACs)
- Understand how the RAD and DAP is calculated
- Understand how the RAC and DAC is calculated
- Undertake some worked examples for Means Not Disclosed care recipients
- RADs and DAPs
- RACs and DACs

Details:

Group B – Tuesday, 1 September 2020
10:30am – 1:00pm (AEST)
Virtual Classroom via Zoom Meeting
CPD Points: 2 points on completion of the workshop

Registration:

$250 + GST LASA Member
$350+ GST Non Members
10% Discount for groups of three (3) or more people
Register at: www.lasa.asn.au/events

An initiative of:

Contact LASA on 1300 111 636 or email us on events@lasa.asn.au with any queries.
View all LASA's professional development opportunities online at www.lasa.asn.au/events